MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR

Ms Nonkululeko Nyembezi

Heartiest congratulations to the class of 2018.

Today you have achieved what has been so far the driving ambition in your life. It is a monumental achievement and you have earned the right to feel good about it. It is your time, so stop and take a moment to savour it. Give yourself a pat on the back and share the special moment with your family and friends who have supported you along the way.

The real value of a good education goes way beyond amassing knowledge. Over and above knowledge, what DUT has hopefully imparted to you is awareness of what is real and essential to be a good person. As you leave the safe space of a university campus, there will be many twists and turns you have to navigate. In doing so, don't give up on your values but be willing to adapt to life's ever changing circumstances.

March to your own drum. In this world of social media, comparing yourself to others has become an occupational hazard. Have the courage to choose your own path based on whatever your intuition commands you to do. You will not always be sure what is the right path to choose. But if you are true to yourself, that inner voice will eventually come to your rescue and indicate the right one for you, however tentatively. Follow your heart even if it takes you away from the well-worn path. Dream big and honour your dreams.

As important as this is, it is unlikely to be the most important moment in your life. Other challenges will come. So you have to keep learning thus dedicating yourself to life-long learning. This takes commitment and may lead you to places you can hardly conceive of today. Naturally there are bound to be failures along the way as you push ever higher. At those times, it would be good to recall Churchill's timeless words: "Success is not final; failure is not fatal; it is the courage to continue that counts." And while you're at it, take the time to learn from those failures – they are by far the greatest teachers.

As you graduate today and embark upon the next phase of your life, what I wish for you is that you find work that you love. For it is only by doing so that your creative juices get stimulated so you excel and produce great results. Don't lose faith if at first you don't find this; keep looking. And remember above all else that life happens at the point of movement, not thinking, worrying, imagining, planning, talking or whatever else. So take action.

All of us at DUT are enormously proud of you.

MESSAGE FROM THE VICE - CHANCELLOR AND PRINCIPAL

Professor Thandwa Mthembu

Please accept my heartiest congratulations on what is a milestone in your life, your university graduation day. I am extremely proud of you and your achievements. You are, indeed, one of a very small group of about 20% of your peers who have diplomas and degrees. You are the cream of the crop!

The degree/diploma that is being conferred on you today will certainly help to broaden your horizons, open new opportunities and position you to play a meaningful and positive role in shaping your future and that of your family. With higher education being a public good, too, the investment you and your family have made in your education will also make a significant contribution to your community, our region, our country and the entire world.

The world will be looking towards you, armed with your knowledge, skills, innovation and entrepreneurial flair, to build on the achievements of those who opened the way before you, so that you continue the journey to make South Africa a better place. You will have to actively play your part to improve our country's economic performance, to enhance our political environment, to nurture our social cohesion and to prevent the degeneration of our society that is being exacerbated by violence, crime and corruption. We place a lot of faith in you. We are confident that you will not disappoint us.

Your graduation today means more than just receiving a piece of paper that confirms your academic prowess. Many of you have had to grapple with severe personal setbacks and challenges over the course of your study. However, you have become trailblazers in your families, villages and townships. Keep striving to grow and prosper. And, always remember to do things you are entrusted with the right way, with dedication, diligence, honesty, integrity, and with excellence and accountability. Never forget that it takes a lifetime to build your reputation and only a moment to destroy your credibility. So, always try and ensure that you do not disappoint yourself.

Your qualification will be inconsequential, unless your knowledge and skills are employed to solve the problems that are evident in our communities and particularly, for the most vulnerable members of our society. As a result, our measure of student success cannot be limited to throughput rates alone. Ultimately, it is the quality of our graduates, the knowledge and skills that you have earned that will demonstrate the utility of your qualification.

We urge you to think carefully about the legacy that you will bequeath to your children and to your grandchildren, and to the country at large. It is my fervent wish that your legacy must be one of hope and not despair. It should be one of great values and ethics, and not bigotry and hate. It should be a legacy of peace, not violence. It should be a legacy of renewal, innovation and entrepreneurship, and not degeneration. It should be a legacy of development and not of wanton destruction. Let your efforts build South Africa, let them grow the African continent and let them guide our world into a safe and prosperous future.

As we unleash you to the world with your new knowledge and skills, innovations and entrepreneurial flair, we trust that you will choose to live and lead a value-driven, principled and ethical life. Despite whatever personal challenges you may face, always stay on the righteous path. Most importantly, always remember to savour this moment and the many other exciting ones that lie ahead.

This is your day! Congratulations to you, your family, your friends and to your community. You have made us proud. Here's to your continued success and good fortune...

Title of Thesis:

Toward an evidence-based medical practice model for health science library services in public and private hospitals within a South African context

Summary:

An investigation based on the eThekweni health district, of the attitude and opinion of health science librarians toward their qualification and services in support of evidence-based medical practice (EBMP); the attitude and opinion of university academic staff toward the feasibility of health science librarians to support EBMP and the attitude and opinion of medical practitioners regarding the optimal health science library services to support them in EBMP. An EBMP model for health science library services within a South African context was developed, coupled with a survey of medical practitioners from public and private hospitals, health science librarians of the eThekweni district and academic staff at institutions that offer a qualification in Library and information Science (LIS). The results indicate that health science librarians are not yet providing medical practitioners with useful services to support EBMP, but have a positive interest in undertaking suitable training so they can provide the latest and most reliable information and literature to the medical practitioners.

PROF SIBIYA WINS DISTINGUISHED WOMAN SCIENTIST AWARD

NDUDUZO NDLOVU

The Executive Dean in the Faculty of Health Sciences at the Durban University of Technology (DUT), Professor Nokuthula Sibiya, has won the Distinguished Woman Scientist Award in the Human Sciences category at the 2018 South African Women in Science Awards (SAWiSA), which took place last night, 23 August 2018 at The Ranch Hotel in Polokwane.

Prof Sibiya, who is a C3-rated researcher, is the author of 40 peer reviewed publications, two books and 10 books chapters and she has presented her papers at national and international conferences. She has successfully supervised eight doctoral, 45 masters and 22 BTech students and Prof Sibiya is currently supervising a further eight doctoral and five master's students.

When quizzed about what might have contributed to her receiving this prestigious award, Prof Sibiya said, "When I submitted my nomination for the award, I had to include a motivation of how my research innovation had enhanced inclusive growth and development of women in particular. Of the 53 postgraduate students I have successfully supervised, 47 are women. The majority of these women graduates (19) are currently appointed as lecturers in higher education at institutions and in colleges. One of my women PhD graduates holds a senior position in the National Department of Correctional Services."

Prof Sibiya said this recognition is also a huge motivation for her to continue with her contribution towards the research output at DUT.

"Besides contributing a new body of knowledge through research, the resultant research output subsidy also contributes to the financial sustainability of our University. So, I take research seriously, as this is one of my core business as an academic at DUT," said Prof Sibiya.

"In order to build capacity, experienced researchers should strive to involve students in research projects and empower them with skills of writing for publication. As the Executive Dean, I have limited time to focus on research but I always work with teams to maintain the momentum," she added.

Prof Sibiya also extended her gratitude to DUT for affording her the opportunity to grow and develop as a researcher. "As women academics, we need to join hands and support each other in pushing the boundaries," she said.

This glamorous event hosted by the Department of Science and Technology (DST) has been in existence since 2003. The awards recognise the achievements of women scientists and it provides motivation for the increased participation of women in research. This helps to profile women scientists and researchers and encourages and rewards the next generation of young women who are starting their careers as researchers and scientists.

The 2018 edition of SAWiSA was held under the theme, "100 years of Mama Albertina Sisulu: Women united in moving South Africa forward".

ASPEN AWARDS BURSARIES TO DUT IT STUDENTS

WAHEEDA PETERS

Pictured: Aspen's Anele Mngomezulu, Shaylyn Naicker (bursary recipient), Karabo Shokane (bursary recipient), Shamilla Essop (Aspen's Group Talent Development, Diversity and Inclusion Manager), DUT's Professor Oludaya, O. Olugbara, Chezlyn Pillay (bursary recipient), Jay Pancham (DUT's IT senior lecturer), DUT's Dr Jeanette Wing and Zwakele Ngubane, DUT's Director (Development and Alumni Relations), at the bursary announcement event at DUT.

The Durban University of Technology (DUT) is delighted to have a signed Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with Aspen Pharmacare Holdings Limited, a multinational South African holding company for pharmaceutical concerns, and the largest medicine company in Africa.

In April 2018, representatives from Aspen had approached DUT's Accounting and Informatics Faculty to sponsor student bursaries in the disciplines of HR, IT, Accounting and Taxation. A list of the top DUT second year IT students in need of bursaries were sent to Aspen, resulting in the selection of the first three IT students, who were given bursaries covering the full cost of their studies for 2018.

The announcement and awarding of the three bursaries to students Karabo Shokane, Shaylyn Naicker and Chezlyn Pillay, officially took place at the IT Boardroom, Ritson Campus on Wednesday, 25 July 2018, marking the beginning of a long term relationship between DUT and Aspen.

Speaking more on Aspen's bursary programme Shamilla Essop, Group Talent Development, Diversity and Inclusion Manager added that the company wants to acquire talent from entry level and develop talent into roles of impact and influence in the future.

"Building this pipeline of talent is critical to our sustainable business performance. Since the Aspen Bursary Programme was launched in 2015, we have been able to empower a total of 281 young South Africans," she said excitedly.

DUT's Professor Oludaya, O. Olugbara expressed his joy at the new, fruitful partnership with Aspen and wants to see the bursary opportunities expanded to other faculties at DUT, as well.

Adding their excitement on being the first selection of students to be given such a prestigious bursary is IT student Shaylyn Naicker, who said it was a great honour and privilege to receive a bursary from Aspen. "This bursary opportunity means that the financial burden of paying for fees and books is lifted off the shoulders of my family and as a student, I can focus all my attention on my studies. Receiving this bursary has given me the belief that hard work truly does bring you closer to your goals and opens doors to new opportunities," he said.

Another ecstatic bursary recipient Karabo Shokane expressed his joy upon receiving the Aspen bursary. "It is one of the greatest thing that's ever happened to me, I am very happy. A bursary like this one can impact a student in a positive way that it motivates them to work even harder. Through hard work a lot can be achieved," he said.

According to IT's Jay Pancham, the event now marks the beginning of a long term relationship with DUT and Aspen, going forward.

THEMA WINS THE PRESTIGIOUS ABE BAILEY TRAVEL SCHOLARSHIP

SANDILE LUKHOZI

After demonstrating outstanding leadership qualities and maintaining a good academic record, Robert Thema, a Bachelor of Technology student in Tourism Management will travel to London this month after receiving the prestigious Abe Bailey Travel Scholarship.

Thema celebrated his achievement alongside his father, Sazi Thema and current classmates, during the Celebratory Tea which was organised by the Office of International Education and Partnerships (IEP), held at Riverside Campus on Monday, 05 November 2018.

The Abe Bailey Travel Scholarship was established in terms of the Will of Sir Abe Bailey who died in 1940. The Trustees of the Abe Bailey Trust make funds available for travel bursaries known as the Abe Bailey Travel Bursaries. These Travel bursaries give selected University students and University staff of junior lecturer status an opportunity to visit the United Kingdom.

Providing insight on the scholarship, the Director for DUT International Education and Partnerships, Dr Lavern Samuels described the scholarship as a unique opportunity, while mentioning some of the previous recipients.

"This is not an ordinary scholarship. Previous winners of the Abe Bailey Travel scholarship have went on to do big things. One of the finest academics this country has produced, Professor Phillip Tobias, who was my Professor when I studied at Wits, and is among the previous winners of this scholarship. Judge Richard Goldstone who served as the chairperson of the Commission of Inquiry regarding Public Violence and Intimidation from 1991 to 1994, is also a previous winner," said Dr Samuels.

With his vast leadership experience, Thema has previously led the Education and Transformation portfolio in the SRC and says that experience allowed him to impact the communities by creating a culture of learning. "I was involved in trying to market

DUT to the communities around us. So, I formed part and parcel of the career resource development campaigns when DUT was recruiting new learners," he said.

Thema was also part of the International Centre of Nonviolence (ICON) leadership Programme in 2017; an initiative which he says broadened his leadership qualities.

"That programme is solely designed to capacitate leaders and it gave me the confidence to see myself as a leader upon completion. Mr Crispin Hemson was facilitating that entire programme throughout the year and he played a very vital role in making us to be able to see ourselves as leaders and to walk confidently," said Thema.

The Head of Department: Ecotourism, Dr Dumisile Hlengwa described Thema as a consistent student, whose leadership capabilities has shone in various positions he has held, while putting the department on the map.

"Robert is a wonderful student. He is a leader and very consistent. His achievement means a lot for our department. Sometimes as staff we beat ourselves a lot. We don't see how much we are actually doing, but when things like this happens, then you realise that you are doing so much, you are grooming leaders and you are influencing the students in the right direction," said Dr Hlengwa.

The selected Travel Bursars from various South African universities will gather in Cape Town on 26 November 2018, spend three days for orientation and depart for Addis Ababa by air on 29 November 2018 and then on to London. The tour will officially end in London on 22 December 2018 with returning flights arriving in South Africa on 23 December 2018.
