Professor Luyanda Dube

PUBLIC LECTURE SERIES

TITLE OF THE LECTURE:

NEVER NEUTRAL: DECOLONISED LIBRARIES AS A MOTOR FOR EXPANSIVE CHANGE IN OUR LIVES.

Professor Luyanda Dube is the Chair in the Department of Information Science at the University of South Africa. Her academic career spans over 20 years wherein she taught in several institutions and has published extensively in accredited national and international journals. She has also supervised and examined Masters and Doctoral candidates.

Her areas of interest are information and knowledge management, indigenous knowledge systems, library and information science curriculum transformation and libraries for development. She is a champion of maximising human capital at all fronts. To sustain her footprint beyond the academy, her current pursuit is in decolonising knowledge and spearheading transformation of the African information and knowledge for meaningful global impact.
