BACHELOR OF APPLIED ARTS IN COMMERCIAL PHOTOGRAPHY

01 JAN - 31 DEC 2023

Bachelor of Applied Arts in Commercial Photography

NQF Level: 7

SAQA ID: 108985

Qualification Code: BACPHI

Location: ML Sultan Campus

Description of the Programme

The Bachelor of Applied Arts in Commercial Photography provides students with a comprehensive choice of traditional and digital photography projects, studio-based tuition as well as location photography. The Photography Programme covers diverse genres in photography: portraiture, advertising, industrial, fashion, contemporary, street, documentary, landscape, lifestyle, architecture, social, editorial, food, photojournalism, medical and scientific photography. Each genre of specialisation will have experienced lecturers and professionals, who introduce students to exciting ideas in contemporary image making. This programme contains modules introducing Practice Based Research Methods and applying relevant critical theory into practice. Students at all levels of study will enjoy working in well-equipped studios, with access to the University library including the Photography programmes own digital archive of resource materials.

The purpose of the programme is to provide students with an overview of photographic history and the skills necessary to analyse, critique and produce images that can be sold both locally and globally. Students learn about photographic theory, aesthetics, different genres, photographic criticism, and creative production. The photography degree develops students, through a series of lectures that cover photographic techniques, creative practices and relevant theoretical content that benefit graduates seeking self-employment and full-time employment in photography and related industries. The programme provides students with the opportunity to acquire experience in a range of contexts and identify their strengths and weaknesses. This methodology ensures that the students have an in-depth knowledge and skills to function in various genres as photographic artists. Upon successful completion of this qualification, graduates are able to; (i) investigate, critically analyse and recommend solutions to various assignments and able to reflect on their own and fellow students' work during a series of cyclical critiques, (ii) through relevant practice-based projects, students are be able to develop their ability to interrogate the role of the commercial photographer within society, (iii) carry out independent research and equip themselves for general employment or continue with postgraduate studies.

Finally, they are able to consider how they can make a positive influence in both local and global contexts with a portfolio of quality artifacts that will be exhibited through the various forms of electronic media or traditional exhibitions.

Categories of Professional Photography

Although most photographers work in several specialisations, broad categories can be described as follows:

- Commercial, industrial and architecture
