Description of the Programme

Public Relations is a strategic communication process used to help forge effective two-way communication between an organisation and its various publics. Communication and/or Public Relations Practitioners are responsible for planning and executing programmes to establish and maintain a favourable image for their employer among the public or groups with which it comes into contact. This communication may be face-to-face with individuals or through the mass media of radio, television, press and the Internet. Students are equipped with various skills such as writing, speaking, research and establishing relationships, all of which are important to any job so students graduate prepared with real-life work skills. Public Relations plays a crucial management role in various organisations for example: government, education, non- profit, politics, the arts, financial, mining, manufacturing, and hospitality.

Personal Qualities Required

The Public Relations/Communication Practitioner should have a broad general interest in the world around him/her, be able to remain calm under pressure and have strong communication skills. Honesty, integrity, dedication, passion, creativity, patience, intellectual curiosity, and discipline are some of the essential qualities for a successful career in the Public Relations/Communications field.

Duration of the Programme

The programme consists of a three years full-time study period inclusive of work-based learning in the public relations/communication or related field.

Career Opportunities

Public Relations Practitioner, Media Officer, Events Manager, Communication Officer, Promotions Officer, Strategist, Fund Raiser, Social Media Strategist, Digital Account Manager, Brand Manager, Copywriter, Corporate Communications.
