

Local Artist Carol Hayward Fell

North Coast Art Group

The May meeting of the North Coast Art Group will be held at the Catholic Church next to Danville Girls School, 2 Newport Avenue, Virginia on Saturday 12th May 2012 from 9.15 a.m. - 12 noon.

Local Artist Carol Hayward Fell will give a talk/demo with a dash of participation. Lately known for her award-winning ceramic sculptures of horses and the vibrant Art classes she runs from her home in Durban North, she will trace her Art journey from Art teacher at Danville, to becoming Ceramics lecturer at the DUT. Schooled in Durban, Carol completed a BAFA Degree and HED at UKZN, Pietermaritzburg, then moved into Art education.

She is well known for her quirky ceramic horses, which have become collectors' items and are sold in top SA Galleries and has been actively involved for over 30 years with the Ceramic Association of SA.

Carol won the top award from CSA and many other awards on all levels. She has a passion for clay, drawing, painting and photography, and her art classes are very popular.

Carol hopes to entertain the NCAG and asks that everyone bring along a sketchbook or sheets of A4 or A3 paper on a larger board and a drawing pencil.
